Will vaccines save humankind?

- You will have developed an opinion during this debate. This may lean towards either vaccines are an important part of preventative medicine or vaccines are not the only way to keep us healthy and should be viewed with care. You may think some vaccines are safer than others. On the other hand, you might look at the question and think the part 'save humankind' and think it unfair that some people in the world can afford vaccines and others can't. Whatever your personal thoughts this is where you can express it. Just remember to be respectful of others.
